Bursar of the Assumption: called to be God's prophetess, at the service of the Kingdom.

A beautiful mission!

A woman, at the service of God and of each sister, also attentive to the cry of the poor and our mother the earth.

Like St. Mary Eugenie, aware that by being in contact with the poor, we can today create a simple, sober and poor way of life, like the one lived in Nazareth.

In the community of life and by following Jesus, poor people, to be good news of social inclusion and real life, for our impoverished and hungry peoples of God.

Announce through our lives and lifestyles that it is possible to redeem the gifts of creation, in which we all have what we need to live in dignity and on an equal level, as daughters and sons of God.

To announce, through a common responsibility between sisters and laity, that goods are at the service of people's lives - in equity and justice - and of the sustainability of the mission that God entrusts to us, in order to make this land a place of glory for God.

To be a mission, to be - like M. Teresa Emmanuel - God's presence in the midst of his people. God who's communion and who invites us to sit at the table and share in solidarity the bread, the fish and everything we have in our jar.

Through a close connection with Jesus, to welcome and imbue ourselves in his compassion, with the gift of himself to the extreme, through his closeness and his solidarity, especially with those who live on the existential, social and economic periphery of our society. With Jesus, exult, taking care of the goods of creation and praising God, cultivating in our microcosms, gardens of tenderness and harmony, where we can be happy and make others happy.

If we strive to do so, we could be prophets of God, in the service of the Kingdom!
